Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD): Regulatory Reporting Requirements

Belden is committed to understanding and complying with sustainability-related regulations and frameworks across the globe. As these frameworks continue to evolve, we ensure we stay up to date and aligned with their requirements.

Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) is a reporting directive put forth by the European Union that expands disclosures across environmental, social and governance topics. We continue to track the evolving requirements and regulations put forth by CSRD. We are planning to release disclosures aligned with the timelines they specify.

Sustainability is a priority at Belden, and we have a lot of key initiatives underway. For more information about our sustainability program, please visit our website.
